We hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I just had to call about the Leigh and Campbell varsity football game. I was very upset over the behavior of the coaches and players.

There was a yellow flag on the play and a penalty called against Campbell. It was a debateable call.

One Campbell coach threw his hat and clip board down. He was totally out of control. The kids were penalized more yards. Then the kids got into the act and then another coach.

I think when it was finished Campbell had lost a total of 60 yards. Leigh high fans were hollering. They were delighted.

As a parent it was very upsetting to me and my two children. They (my children) asked me, "why don't those adults shut up?" And my husband says he'd never seen anything like it.

It was a tough game and the 15-8 loss for Campbell put them out of the running. But I can't believe the behavior of the adults.

How do they expect kids to react when they set that kind of example?

After all, its supposed to be a game. They're not winning World War III.

An Upset Parent

Editor's note: We had a total of three calls over this incident by last Friday. We contacted Al Matthews, head varsity football coach and Jim Williams, athletic director of Campbell high school.

Said Matthews: "I have no response to that. Maybe that person should call the principal. I don't feel I should have to answer that. After all, I'm only the football coach.,'

Williams had something different to say. "The Campbell high school athletic program and coaches emphasize sportsmanship and fair play at all times," he said. "The emotional tone of a game will sometimes cause spontaneous reactions which do not represent the character of the team or the coaches."

In our last issue a caller was upset over the recycling center located next to Campbell high. Group Advisor John Salinas and I finally made contact last week and he explained what happened when people found the center closed during regular hours.

"We had overlapping hours that didn't overlap," Salinas said. The person that was supposed to stay couldn't and through a lack of communication the next person didn't arrive for 1½ to 2 hours. When the next shift got there they cleaned up the recyclables left outside the gate.

"It's the first time it ever happend," Salinas said. "It shouldn't happen again."

I was shocked when someone told me my son's name was in the PRESS, described as retarded. He's not. He suffers from a learning disability. I don't think the paper should print such things.

Angry mother

Editor's note: We didn't. The incident which a caller described mentioned no names. And we don't use names of juveniles without either parental or school permission. We can understand your concern too with the retarded label. A learning disability is quite different and many of these students with learning problems have above average and high intelligence.

Locals only

New bingo ordinance unveiled

A FIRST reading was held Monday night on a new bingo law for Campbell that uses the state and county guidelines and adds a few local touches.

Like the proviso that organizations operating bingo games be locally based.

And that no more than two games per week be allowed for any group.

Final reading and adoption of the ordinance will make it effective Jan. 13, it was announced at the City Council session.

Under the ordinance, "bingo" means a game of chance in which prizes are awarded on the basis of designated numbers or symbols on a card which conforms to numbers or symbols selected at random (as any bingo player could tell you).

TO QUALIFY for a permit, at a cost of $50, the organization must be a charitable group exempt from taxes under the Internal Revenue and Franchise Tax Board rules.

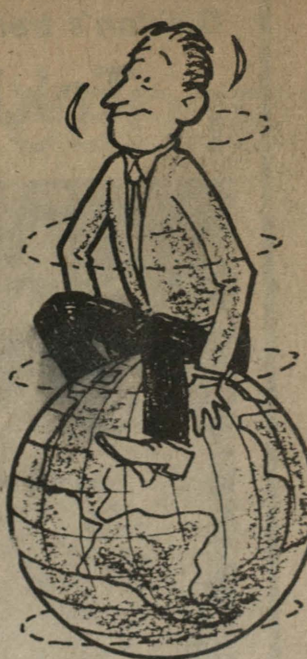
This new law, which is being adopted by cities throughout the state, would outlaw many bingo games now played for fun and or profit by local social clubs, fraternal groups and service clubs.

Many fraternal clubs, for instance, are designated "Non-Profit-Fraternal" by the IRS instead of "Non-Profit-Charitable" as required under the new law.

The state legislature is expected to take up this issue during the current session and, hopefully, broaden the definition of qualifying groups.

OTHER stipulations of Campbell's proposed ordinance are:

- No minors can participate.
- Games must be open to the public.
- Total value of prizes can't exceed $250 per game.
- Hours for operating games are noon to midnight.
- An annual report, showing total money received, total paid out in prizes plus a cost breakdown, must be submitted to the city.
- The Police Chief will be allowed to inspect the premises to insure games are conducted legally.
- Any violation of the three-page ordinance can result in a misdemeanor citation.



Seniors had to change rules

The Campbell Senior Social Club went ahead with their bingo game at the library Tuesday, but they had to modify the rules.

Last month Police Chief Don Burr stopped by the library Community Room during the club's monthly bingo game to tell Community Services Coordinator Barbara Harison they were operating illegally. He reportedly told the Coordinator to either stop the games or face a possible citation.

And Monday night members of that club were at the City Council session in force to ask about that edict.

The issue was settled that night after a conference in the hall between Burr and club members.

The group was violating provisions of state law in requiring a 25 cent donation for two bingo cards and for requiring that those playing be seniors, Burr explained.

So Tuesday the games were back in session with a couple of changes.

First, anyone will be allowed to take part. And, finally, those quarter charges are now "donations."

Grand jury probe sought

BY PAT SAFFORD

Some of the allegations made by a former animal control officer last week came as no surprise to county officials, Supervisor Rod Diridon said Friday. And, with the recent reorganization of that department, something's being done about it.

Ed Clarke, who worked in that department for over three years, charged last week that a serious lack of training exists for ACO's and that some "bad apples" in the department have been guilty of neglect of animals and of selling some animals on the side. Clarke resigned in September.

Diridon also said Friday that there were some problems cited, that were new to officials.

"I intend to send the article to the Grand Jury as additional evidence," he added.

"Mr. Clarke was active in the department before our reorganization (two months ago). That department is now under the Environmental Management Agency. The head of that agency Paul Yarborough, is aware of some of the problems and has a management task team working on remedies," Diridon explained. "Particularly those relating to training and to discipline."

The county official says many of the problems cited by Clarke relate to the Humane Society, directly or indirectly. Such as the lack of the availability of care for sick animals. That's being remedied through the county's funding of a full time veterinarian for the animal shelter.

He called Clarke's statements, "helpful in encouraging more expedicious action by the county administration," but added, "they were certainly unnecessary in alerting the board of supervisors. We've been aware of them for some time."

And Diridon doesn't share Clarke's concern that the Grand Jury investigation will limit itself just to allegations made against the Humane Society.

"I specifically, personally asked the Grand Jury to investigate the whole area of animal control about one month ago," Diridon declared.

That investigation, he added should be a long process.

"I'm sure their intent is to investigate all aspects of animal control; notification of a stray, apprehension or pick up and disposition of the animal."

An honest person

Last Sunday a Campbell woman, looking for bargains at the Goodwill store on San Tomas Aquino road, made a real discovery.

Inside an overnight bag on sale there, she found $60 in cash and turned it into the clerk.

The money was turned over to Campbell police to hold in case the owner turns up.

Take a tip on holiday shopping from Slim

Don't rush out to buy Christmas gifts for youngsters until you'ver heard the talk by Slim Ingham at the Campbell library this Wednesday, Dec. 1.

Ingham, chairman of Consumers United and a weekly columnist in the CAMPBELL PRESS will be talking about toy safety and answering questions at the 7:30 p.m. consumer program in the Community Room.

The writer also had a book published recently, entitled "Gullible's Travels."

There is no charge for the program.

Clarke's allegations are labeled 'misleading' by administrator

A spokesman for the Environmental Management Agency, which oversees animal control, said Tuesday he feels Clarke's statements were misleading in one important respect.

"It implies we don't do anything about the problems (in animal control)," the agency source said.

The problem in disciplining employees, he added, is in getting proof. Charges made by others are only hearsay and must be substantiated.

And the man added that the EMA recently let somebody go because he was found sleeping in the south county animal shelter. "We just can't allow that."

The source concurred though with the serious lack of training for animal control officers. "The health department (which use to direct animal control) didn't take a particular interest in this area."

But things will be different now, he explained. A two member review team will be going to southern California soon to review animal control training programs there and will try to set up a similar program in Santa Clara County. That course should include two weeks of intensive training plus additional on the job instruction.

Brisk bidding on old sites

There was a multimillion dollar auction in Campbell last week that came as a surprise to those doing the selling.

Four surplus school sites in the Campbell elementary school district went up for grabs to the highest bidder Thursday night and bidding was brisk.

When the cashier's checks cleared, the local district had sold the sites for a whopping $2.3 million, with one 10-acre parcel going for twice the minimum bid.

The day before the district had received only one formal bid on the property but, in hind sight, that wasn't surprising.

"Successful bidders had to immediately give the district a cashier's check for 10 per cent of the purchase price" Administrator Al Watson explained. And the aggregate total of those 10 per cents amounted to $231,000 to the district last week.

All property was sold to home developers and top price was paid for the Allendale site, which had a minimum bid of $363,000. After a spirited session that land sold for $751,000 to Osterlund Enterprises.

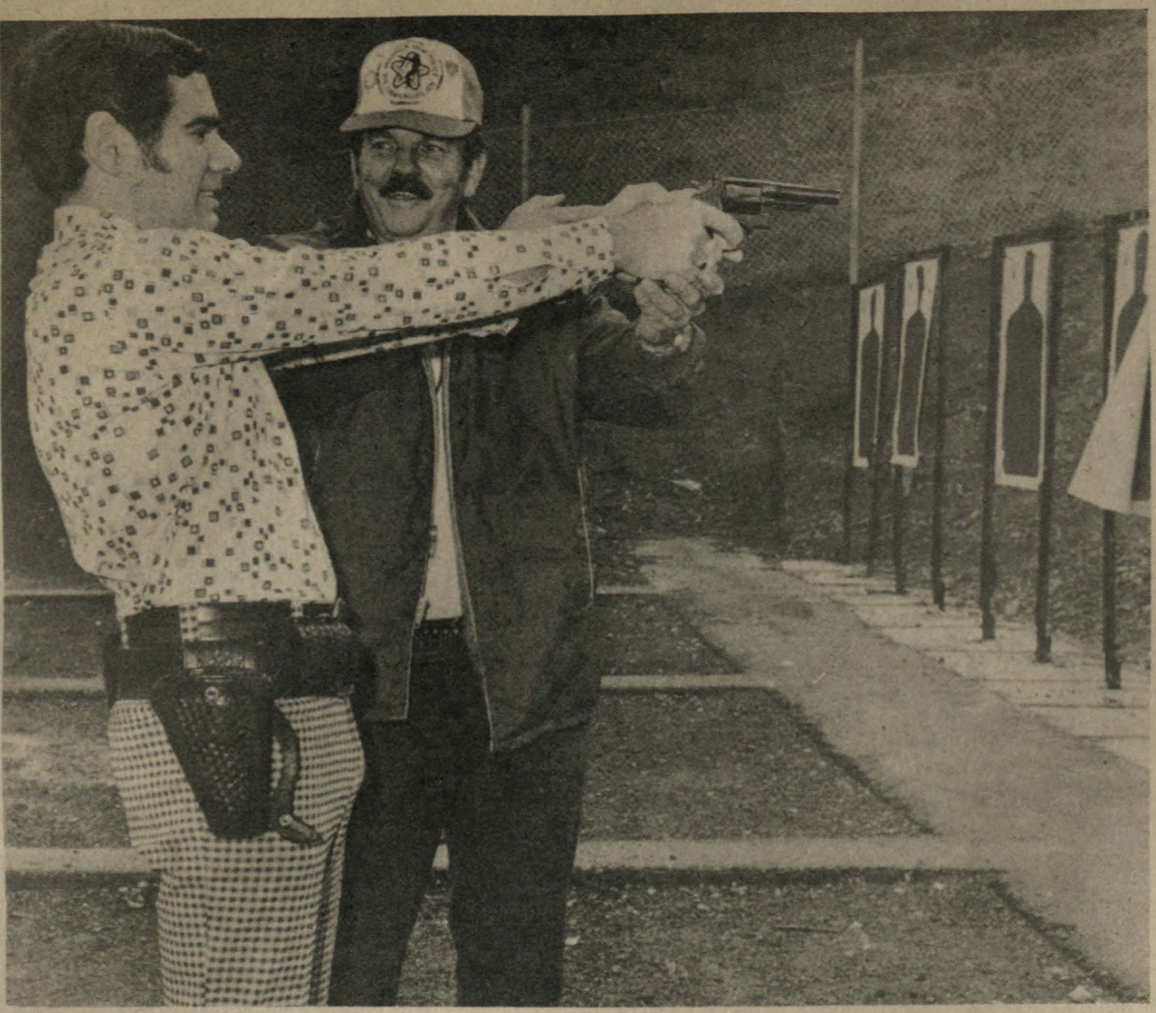
Other lands, their minimum bid and selling price include:

- Downing site ($396,400) sold to Ponderosa Homes Corporation for $615,000.
- Meridian site ($631,700) went to Estate Homes for the minimum price.
- Hilltop site ($216,000) to Osterlund Enterprises for $317,000.

Under a new state law, proceeds from the sale (after outstanding loans are paid off) can be used in the district's capital improvement program.

Diridon's training

Taking it on the arm to get a close look



TAKING AIM on the rifle range last Friday was Supervisor Rod Diridon who decided to get a first hand look at how police reserves are trained. But he didn't neglect his official duties, Diridon also explained, "My office hours started at 6 a.m. and went late into the evening." The official is shown getting some pointers from range instructor Sgt. Bill Stewart of the Mt. View police department.

LAST FRIDAY county supervisor Rod Diridon completed the week-long Sheriff's reserve officer training course with top marks. But he isn't thinking about moonlighting.

What started out as "sort of a whim" for the county official turned into a learning experience as he and classmates sat through hours of classroom training (in rules of arrest, detention and search and the officer's code of ethics) and field work on the firing range.

"This was a week during which other members of the Board were in San Diego at a state supervisor's convention," Diridon explained, "and I don't like conventions. They're a waste of time and money."

So he decided to use the week to find out what kind of training police officers (in this case reserves) were getting.

SHERIFF GEARY knew about Diridon's plan in advance, but he was the only one. To the instructor and other classmates the Supervisor was just another face . . . that is until an article with Diridon's picture came out last week and someone made the connection.

"The one thing that really impressed me was that they continually stressed the need to protect the citizen's right and the responsibility of the police officer to avoid use of violence," Diridon declared. "They're told to use only the force necessary (to effect an arrest)."

AND ANOTHER eye opener for Diridon came during the physical part of the training; arrest techniques. The class was co-ed and Diridon says the women were small and he and others thought they'd have to be gentle with them.

"I'll tell you though, the women were pretty tough . . . one almost tore my arm off (during a demonstration). I was certainly convinced immediately that it doesn't take a large person to make an arrest."

Law suit on tap

All signs are 'go' for college stadium

At a marathon session last Thursday night, West Valley College trustees gave the go ahead for completing the stadium but final settlement of the issue will probably be in the courtroom.

By a 5-2 vote (with Trustees Foster Lopes and William Cilker opposed) the board approved final plans for the 5,400 seat stadium on the Saratoga campus.

Last May the city of Saratoga filed a writ of mandamus against the college and the newly formed West Valley Taxpayers and Environment Association indicated earlier they'd take official action against the board if the stadium was approved.

Also during the five hour board session, a motion to exempt the district from the 1968 use permit with the city of Saratoga failed to garner the two thirds majority needed for passage. The vote was four in favor and three opposed.

Lopes and Cilker were joined by Trustee Mildred Wharton in voting against the motion. Wharton later explained she opposed the exemption, "since I do not believe we have violated the use permit."

Item 7 of that use permit is what all the fuss is about. It states there will be no large scale stadium built on the campus. The college contends the 5,400 seat stadium is not large scale. Opponents don't agree.

Bids on the project will be called for on a "deduct" basis, trustees also decided. That means bidders will be asked to bid the entire project and then deduct what it would cost to eliminate the lights, press box and concession stand or the sound system.

An estimated crowd of 175 filled the student center Thursday and most of the speakers for and against the stadium were those that also spoke at the Nov. 10 public hearing.

In speaking in favor of the exemption Board President William (Ben) Gould declared, "we lose our credibility throughout the district by vacillating and changing our minds like will-o'-the-wisps. We should feel compelled to exempt ourselves for the entire district."

Trustee Robert Sorenson explained his support for completion of the project saying the facilities would not be used solely for football, but would also serve all sports and events, such as graduation.

Teachers say they've reached deadlock in contract negotiations

An outside mediator may be called into stalled discussions between Campbell elementary teachers and the district office, if both sides stand firm on their latest offer.

Monday the Board of Directors of the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association (CETA), representing district teachers, gave the school district a Nov. 29 deadline for coming up with another offer.

If either side declares an enpasse, the matter goes into mediation.

Last Thursday teachers turned out in force for a quiet demonstration at the school board session, carrying signs and with a barrel to illustrate their feeling that Campbell teachers, "are at the bottom of the barrel."

There are three main points teacher negotiators are working on; binding arbitration, a salary hike and that teachers have a say in educational decisions. They're also asking that any non-CETA member be assessed a fee equivalent to dues paid by members to help pay for the CETA Collective Bargaining representation.

CETA President Phil Short, said Friday negotiations with the district have been underway now for six months.

"Campbell educators, who have been working without any contract while surrounding districts have successfully concluded their negotiations, are beginning to actively show their displeasure as evidenced by their demonstration at Thursday night's board meeting," Short declared.

Short said local teachers have had a "two-year dry period of absolutely zero salary increase."

"This situation seems incredible to our educators in view of the nearly $1 million reserve held by the district," Short added.

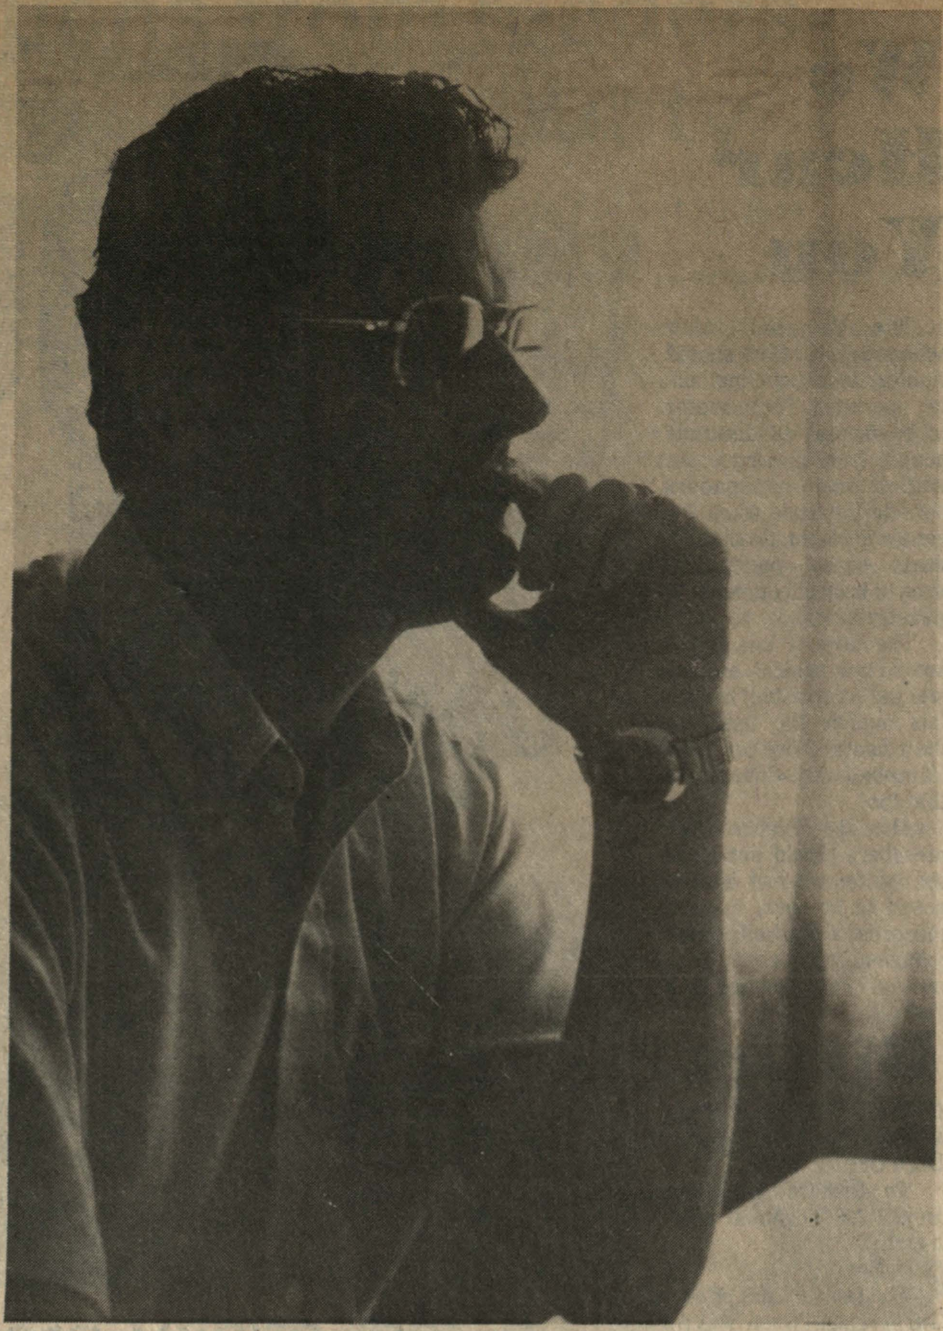
This represents the third advance payment for the third quarter of 1976.

In addition the county received $1.2 million in sales taxes for the local transportation fund.



ALTHOUGH Woods Mattingly had seven years experience in the broadcasting field last week he had butterflies in his stomach awaiting his appearance on the Owen Spann show. The local dream analyst says dreams are an important way of getting in tune with yourself and, sometimes, with the collective unconsciousness.

Dream analyst

The girl of your dreams ... could be anybody

By PAT SAFFORD

IF YOU dream of a flash flood racing down your street, don't start packing to move to higher ground. There could be another meaning.

Helping people sort out those meanings is the job of Woods Mattingley, dream analyst, who heads up Seeker's Quest; an organization devoted to helping people get in touch with themselves and with their psychic experiences.

And is you're interested in getting in touch with the meanings behind your dreams, according to the Campbell man, don't rush out and buy those dream books on the market. Mattingley feels the best place for those "instant answer' books is, "in the nearest fire."

While dreams are made up of symbols, he says, each person has his or her own. And individuals are very different in the way they dream. For instance, very spiritual people will tend to have rich symbolic dreams while the practical, direct thinker dreams in a style that fits his personality.

IN AN INTERVIEW in Mattingley's neat N. Third st. apartment last week, the bespeckled former TV cameraman did acknowledge there are a few dream symbols that usually have the same meaning.

"In dreams usually the characters you see are you," he declares, "or each has a relationship to you."

And when you dream of a house it usually represents your body or self. "But it can have other meanings," he quickly adds.

Take dreams of a flood for instance. It doesn't necessarily mean you should move to higher ground. "It could represent an emotional flood," Mattingley explained. And the person who dreams that all his teeth have fallen out has two options. It could indicate a poor state of dental health or it could be the person had been catty or had been using his mouth as a weapon.

"Just what would you do if you had that dream?" I asked.

"PERSONALLY, I'd have my teeth checked first," he laughed.

For over 20 years Mattingley has been seriously interested in dream analysis and has a dream journal going back to 1955. Mattingley believes dreams have many uses for individuals. As an outlet, for instance. Don't be too shocked if you do things in your dreams you'd never consider when awake.

"There's a lot of compensation in dreams. Some dreams are just unrealized desires." And then there's a psychic element too, the analyst says.

Dreams can forecast the future, he contends, and gives a personal experiences as an example.

Years ago he dreamed that his father's business in Richmond, Virginia was going to be shut down. He talked to his parents about that vivied dream the next morning and that same day the head office called to tell his father the office would be closed.

IN HIS STUDIES, Mattingley follows the Edgar Cayce theories on dream analysis. That famous mystic, "who was an illiterate by the way" gave over 14,000 psychic and health readings during his lifetime and 1,000 dream readings.

And there's one type of dream that most analysts agree on. The reoccurring dream.

"These dreams are very important to the person and they need to be interpreted very accurately," Mattingley says. "If the same dream, for instance, reoccurs over a period of 10 years it means the subconscious or whoever is trying to say something" and the person is not getting the message.

And the most frightening dreams for people, those of the death of a loved one or themselves, are usually symbolic too, the analyst explains.

"It may mean a death of consciousness, a change of consciousness for the person, a crisis or even the death of a negative trait in that person. Or it could mean a termination of your relationship."

ONE OF THE MOST enjoyable dreams for individuals is of flying, either skipping lightly over the terrain or soaring like a bird up in the clouds.

"That can have to do with aspirations, goals, spirituality or even with out of body experiences."

This is the psychic theory that persons can physically be in one place while their consciousness (and sometimes their presence) is in another.

Through the Seeker's Quest ministery (Mattingley is an ordained minister through that organization), the local man holds weekly prayer meetings in his home and psychic experiences and prophicies are not an uncommon phenomena.

Like last year when Mattingley says he got a psychic message about a massive earthquake that registered 8.4 on the Richter scale.

HE AND THE group prayed for those that would be involved; to help survivors through their grief and to help those who perished to "go over." This is Mattingley's definition of death, for he believes in reincarnation and, in fact, says he knows of three former lives of his own.

"I know for certain I was once an American Indian in the Great Lakes area, a pauper in England and a Catholic monk during the dark ages."

Mattingley warns however, that psychic messages have to be as closely analyzed as dreams. And he gave a tragic example.

The woman who first predicted the "Great California Earthquake" several years ago, wasn't reading her message right, Mattingley believes. While other psychics quickly picked up the cry of alarm about the prospect of parts of California slipping into the Pacific during a massive quake (psychics are suggestible), the original prediction came from one woman. She moved out of the state before the date predicted for the big upheaval and may have been the only "victim" of prophesy.

"ON THE DAY of the expected earthquake the woman had a massive heart attack and died. So that (prediction) could have been a personal message to her."

For those who want to take up dream analysis in earnest, Mattingley has some suggestions.

o Start recording your own dreams. Put a pad and pencil by your bed and the minute you wake up write down your dream in as much detail as possible (or use a tape recorder).

o Refer to "Dream Your Magic Mirror" by Elsie Schrist for a very general list of symbols or read "Man and His Symbols" by Carl Jung.

o After awhile try to break down your dreams and pick out symbols that reoccur. Try and figure out what that particular symbol means to you.

o If you begin to get some meaning from your dreams, using a dream book as a guide, then you may want to start applying it.

But don't expect instant success, he adds. It takes time to prepare a journal (from one month to six weeks).

"After all you don't learn French in a day."

School board race

Vaughn says she'll be 'in the running'

THREE SEATS on the Campbell Union School District board of trustees will be up for election in March and, with the filing date just around the corner, one trustee has declared she'll run again.

Jennie Vaughn, 37, was elected to the school board in April of 1973 and began her term in July. Last week she declared she's ready to take on another four year term.

The terms of President Gordon Abbott, Board Clerk George Baker and Vaughn all expire next year. Baker said Thursday he hasn't decided whether he'll seek reelection and Abbott said he expects to make an announcement of his intentions in early December.

"I feel the job has just begun," the Trustee said in her announcement last week, "and as a school board member I don't feel I've completed all I wanted to in four years."

One thing she'd like to see in the next four years is a "team effort" throughout the district in administering schools. And included in that team should be teachers, administrators, parents, students and board members, she explains.

Another issue, which she calls the basic issue of her campaign, is a firm belief in the value of public education. And she and her husband Ed have four children in local schools to prove it; John, 16 and Jan, 14 at Campbell high school; Jill, 12, at Campbell junior high and Michael, 8, at Hazelwood elementary.

Away from the local level, Vaughn's main concern is with the future financing of schools. She'd like to see less support coming from local property owners and more from the state. The state should pay for those programs which they mandate, she declares.

But she's also optimistic for the future of education in the district. "When educators acknowledge and meet community needs then we get closer to the idea behind public education."

The filing period for candidates runs from Dec. 12 through Dec. 31.

FIRST INCUMBENT to declare she'll run for reelection in the who'll be seeking her second term on the local board in March. Campbell elementary school district is Trustee Jennie Vaughn,

Six named to youth advisory commission

Six young people were appointed to the Youth Commission Monday night, giving that group a new lease on life.

For the past several weeks the advisory group was not able to meet since it had just one member, Ken Podgorsek. The rest had resigned to attend school out of town or were dropped because of missed meetings or a change of residency.

New commissioners include: Jim Berryessa, 151 El Caminito (Campbell high school); Lisa Ewbank, 1439 Inwood court (Westmont); Cindy Gonzales, 267 Virginia ave. (Campbell junior high); Stacie McMahon, 300 Dunster (Campbell high); Maureen Moriarty, 585 Latimer ave. (Campbell junior high) and Lori Wernicke, 786-A Sharmon Palms lane (Campbell junior high).

A rough ride

What caught their attention was the fact that the car was stopped at an intersection at a funny angle.

And that observation by Campbell police resulted in the rescue of one very frightened San Jose man.

As they were patrolling, local police first spotted the car at Bascom and Union ave. And as they watched they saw the man gesturing frantically to a woman in the back seat.

When they investigated they found the 33 year old man had been kidnapped by a 21 year old woman who was holding him at gunpoint.

Earlier the woman(who lived with the victim), went into a rage and charged the man was two-timing her. She forced him, at gunpoint, to drive her "back to where he was" for a possible confrontation.

The man later said he'd been driving around hoping to run into a police officer and, when he saw the Campbell patrol car he stopped.

"Winners Become Losers"

Being an active participant in viewing sports in the Campbell community over the past 10 years, and more recently at Campbell high school, I have some points to be considered.

We have some excellent athletes which have been developed in our youth programs. The Little League, Pony and American Legion Baseball programs have produced dominating local teams and also U.S. and World Champions. The West Valley Touchdown Club has done much the same with these athletes in football.

These athletes go to Campbell high school with great anticipation of continuing their winning ways. In recent years, I have seen these athletes do just that as Freshmen and Junior Varsity football players only to end up losers as Varsity players.

I think the time has come for us to determine the cause of this situation and request that our taxes paid school administrators and coaches resolve the problem. Or at least be able to bring their programs up to the same level of performance obtained by amateur administrators and coaches in these other programs.

A FRUSTRATED FAN

Editor's note: Head Varsity football coach at Campbell high Al Matthews said he's sure he knows who wrote this letter. "He's just a frustrated ex-athlete that's been around here 4 or 5 years. The man has created such problems, Matthews added, that he's been asked to leave the stadium by school officials. He adds that he feels the "winners to losers" allegation, "is a ridiculous statement."

..."These people never approach the coach (with their criticisms). They sit in the stand and complain."

Open letter to West Valley College trustees

I understand that at your meeting you may reach a decision regarding the stadium issue and the participation or role the city of Saratoga might play in this matter.

My views have remained unchanged since I testified before you on this matter and I urge you to go forward with your plans. If it is legally possible to limit the role the city of Saratoga may play in this matter, I would hope you would do so.

In my view, your decision is long overdue and your affirmative action to go forward with the stadium plans on the Saratoga campus is in the best interests of the college and the entire district.

My principal reason for holding this belief is based on observations and experience gained serving for more than five years on the Campbell and Santa Clara County planning commissions. There is a common philosophical thread of thinking subscribed to by our foothill communities (Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, Saratoga, Los Altos and Los Altos Hills) which can only work against the college and thus against the beneficial interests of the entire district.

These communities by design, policy and action, seek to preserve their jurisdictions to serve totally the upper and upper middle economic class of our society. Their actions indicate they care little for:

- A balanced community plan (i.e. number of residents equals the number of job opportunities.)
- Sharing the county-wide problem of employment and housing for the economically disadvantaged.
- Sharing the housing needs and well-being of senior citizens of modest means.
- Encouraging commercial and industrial growth which alone can help alleviate the three points above.

I see no way that the quality of life of the Saratoga residents will suffer should you elect to go forward with the stadium plans. On the contrary, it would seem to me that implementing the plan before you will fill a gap and make student life more enriching. It should bring more excellence to the campus and the total community.

I urge you to take affirmative action and go forward with the stadium plan with or without the concurrence of the city of Saratoga.

A thank you

EDITOR:

I just want to say "thanks" for the nice article you did for me in the Nov. 4 issue. It was so warm and newsy, all of us here think you're a very good writer.

Please thank Gordon Lew for the photography. He placed all my games just right so they showed up very well.

Anyway, on with the show (or should it be game?). I wanted to express my appreciation and to wish you good luck with your "San Francisco" game.

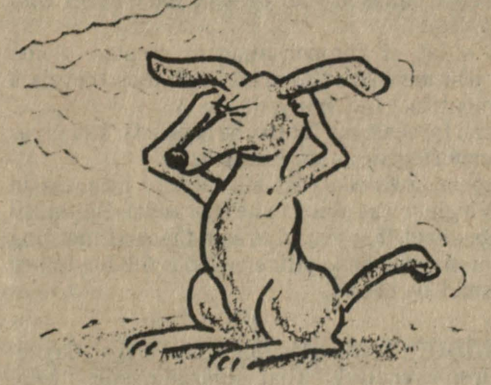
Editor's note: And a "thank you" to you too for the nice letter. The "San Francisco" game our local inventor is referring to is a game idea of mine that was returned unopened by Parker Brothers 3 years ago.

An open letter to all emergency services

I live on a residential street running parallel to a busy boulevard and adjacent to an expressway overpass and off-ramp. I am asking if it is possible to narrow the frequency range of the sirens being used on your emergency vehicles, not for myself or any other people living near, but for the following reason:

For eight years I have been listening to what happens when any emergency vehicle with sirens is traveling through the neighborhood; that is, that all the domestic canines in the neighborhood seem to suffer great physical pain to their auditory systems from those higher frequencies of the sirens which are beyond the reach of human hearing. Several times a day, countless times in a year, they are subjected to this torture, which I perceive from the sound of their crying.

I am not a dog owner or fancier. In fact, we are the only people on the block without a dog. But I am constantly more aware of their pain and more aware that I must attempt to do something about it for the sake of all speechless animals who can't write their own letters, by writing to you and departments and agencies which use emergency vehicles.



Those frequencies beyond human hearing are of no use as an approach warning to humans, and only cause pain to these animals.

Mrs. Margaret Marumoto
936 Old Orchard rd.

Editor's note: Copies of this letter were sent to the Campbell police and fire departments, local ambulance services and to the County Fire Marshall and Sheriff.

We contacted Captain Ron Eddlemon of the Campbell Police Department who says he has empathy for the problem the writer describes but that he doubts if anything can be done. "I have a neighbor that has two dogs," Eddlemon explained. "One is bothered by sirens and the other isn't." If the department was to change the frequency, Eddlemon says those dogs now bothered would be helped but others, not previously affected, would be. (In other words, he's saying you can't please all the dogs all the time by changing siren frequencies).

Battalion Chief Sal Leonardi had a different opinion. He says he feels the cause (of canine discomfort) is the new electronic sirens being used. He also has noticed that all the dogs in his neighborhood are affected when a siren passes by. "If there is some way we can find out what a dog's hearing frequency range is," Leonardi said. "maybe we could have the oscillators (in the sirens) adjusted."

We put in a call to a specialist in the field of noise, Ed Pack of Campbell, and hope to have an answer by next week.

We Hear You

The Campbell high school Science Club should tighten their recycling center operation. There seems to be no way to dissuade people from leaving cans, bottles and newspapers outside the fence when the center is closed. So the students should police the area to keep it from looking so ratty.

The town of Los Gatos has a law against anyone leaving recyclable materials outside the fence of their center. Why can't the Campbell City Council do that too?

Also the Science Club members should not close the center when it is supposed to be open, even if there is a football game going on.

A real sticky problem

SOME DAYS it's just not worth coming to work. As Gill Cable TV driver Don Easley discovered last Thursday. He'd pulled the big rig into a dirt lot next to a local fast food restaurant on Campbell avenue. And when he tried a shortcut through an adjacent muddy lot, here's what happened. When the tow truck driver arrived on the scene, he told Easley it was his second call in two days at that lot. So, don't take a shortcut through the muddy ground at Campbell and Third st.

Impressions

NO ONE NOTICED

People see what they expect to see so it was no surprise when we didn't get any comments last week over the Campbell high school pancake breakfast picture.

That wasn't a pancake the woman was flipping, it was a tortilla.

Seems that no one had thought to bring along props when the photographer arrived that morning. But luckily, the fare in the high school cafeteria that day was tacos.

And it really does look like a pancake . . . that fell in a mud puddle.

TO THE WINNER . . . GOES THE PIZZA

The competition between the Campbell fire and police departments last Saturday at the Turkey Trot Fun Run was settled, temporarily, when Officer Howard Drake came in with the best time; 26.57 minutes for the 4.5 mile run.

The fire department's contestants didn't do too bad either. Captain Gerry Eller came in at 28.13, with Ty Chew at 29.13 and Al Lowder at 35.13.

There were dome grumblings though about the police department putting in a "ringer" and that the officer had turned pro for the race.

Actually, Drake revealed, he'd only been promised all beer and pizza he could consume by Police Captain Ron Eddlemon.

Another city staffer, Administrative Assistant Terry Ellis ran the race in good time. He posted a 28-39 time.

A LOGICAL CONCERN

The Campbell elementary school district will be sponsoring three candidates forums for the up-coming school board race and some concern was expressed over who's going to make up the questions.

Seems with three seats open, that just leaves two board members, Dr. Robert King and Donna Baird, to work out the forum details. Those whose terms expire, Gordon Abbott, George Baker and Jennie Vaughn, won't be in on the planning.

So, its back to the drawing board for more study.

STILL A MYSTERY

An injured pigeon swooped down in the parking lot of the PRESS office last week and, before we could get veterinary help, expired.

But the feathered creature was banded and Sally Howe, who had just stopped by, is making contact with an organization back east that keeps track of the travelers.

We hope to learn where he came from . . . and where he was going.

Moreland trustees will not run again

Two trustees in the Moreland school district, whose terms expire in March, have announced they don't plan to seek reelection.

Trustees Sarah Dunham and John Hibbert announced last week they won't seek another four year term because they'll be moving out of the district.

A third trustee, Damon Nalty, whose seat will also be up March 31, said he will file and run for another term.

Filing date for the seats opens in December. For more information call the district office at 379-1370.

Last week the board also took action relative to the March 8 district election.

First, they decided not to hold a revenue limit election. They also voted to limit candidates' statements to 200 words, have candidates pay the cost of printing their statements and that no other material be sent from the Registrar of Voters office, other than the 200 word statement.

SPECIAL performers at Prospect high school recently were members of the Keio Mandolin Club of Tokyo. The 44-member orchestra presented a program of eastern and western music. Professor Tadashi Hattori conducted the orchestra and soloist was Sumie Eguchi, on the koto (a centuries-old Japanese stringed instrument).

Reactions from readers over cat traps - county

Cat traps

I was shocked to read about cat traps. I certainly didn't realize this was going on. And I don't understand how it can be legal to lure someone else's pet onto your property in order to capture it.

Upset Reader

I just had to call to tell you what I felt about the story on cat traps. I feel you've done a real public service in bringing this problem to our attention. I, for one, will be keeping a closer eye on my cat and if he's missing I'll at least know where to look.

Cat Owner

That was some story about the traps last week. But one thing bothers me. How come no one's name was mentioned?

Curious

Editor's note: The two women who favored (or used) the traps asked that their names not be given, Pumpkin's owner had no objections but, since we weren't going to use other names, we didn't include hers.

I was so mad when I read that story (about cat traps). Just a month ago we lost our beloved pet who had been a fine companion for over 8 years. Now, I pray that he got "fickle" as your article suggested and didn't get caught in some heartless person's trap. These traps should be outlawed.

Grieving Owner

I have a suggestion for people who are legally using these traps. You mentioned that no one likes to let their neighbors know they have a trap, even though they're supposed to. Why not require a large red "Cat Trap" sign to be posted on a person's front fence when they're using them? This is as clear a danger as any "Beware of Dog" sign. And the authorities could enforce it by refusing to pick up any cat trapped where a sign wasn't posted.

Idea Man

In the story of Pumpkin I'm very surprised about one aspect. That's the fact that the owner was able to get him back at all.

Former Animal Control Officer

I don't like cats so I'm not complaining about the traps. But I think the person that said "using bait attracts more cats" is right. If the woman doesn't want cats in her backyard she should have a dog.

No Cat Lover

Animal control

In reading and rereading the article you wrote I have just one concern. And that's that people not think it was a case of sour grapes on my part. It wasn't like that at all.

Ed Clarke

I was very disturbed by the article about animal control but I can't say I was surprised. There's been a lack of morale in that department for a long time.

An Observor

I'd like to see a name change along with some housecleaning in the (animal control division). Why not call them animal welfare officers? One sounds like a police force, the other like someone doing a service to the community.

One Suggestion

You just had to know something was not right with the county department. How else could those things that were happening at the Humane Society go on for so long? The animal control people were as close to the situation as anyone.

A Reader

Traps are for cat haters

EDITOR:

I am writing in regard to the woman who traps cats in her yard.

We are one of many families on our tract who has a cat. Our cat is in and out during the day and in during the night. If someone put tuna regularily out in her back yard, our cat would be a regular visitor.

We feed birds safely at our home, have vegetable gardens and even have had sandboxes for the children. To say that cats destroy gardens or leave piles of feathers is a gross overstatemnet.

Some birds are killed, along with rodents, which I notice she didn't complain about, but this is nature. I also would be willing to bet that if this woman took the time to talk to the owners of cats bothering her, she would usually find they are willing to cooperate.

Our neighborhood has occasional strays and I have either found homes for them or called the Humane Society if they were sick or badly wounded.

Perhaps this woman should look further than just a cat and think about the child or family that loves and cares for the animal.

Our dog is confined to the back yard, as there is a leash law.

There is no law requiring cats to be leashed or confined.

Baiting cats into your yard for capture and calling for them to be taken away can only satisfy a hatred of cats.

Expects more feathers to fly

Editor:

I'm sure more feathers will fly from cat owners when they read about Pat Safford's article this week about the "cat trap lady," than were on her property from what she claims is a cat kill of some baby birds.

I am a cat owner, a bird and nature lover. I feed both even though I know cats AND dogs will attack birds. I also feed stray dogs — since I feel for all animals even though I don't own both dogs and cats.

"Cat Trap" lady claims to, "love all animals and doesn't wish them any harm." How could this be? And she thinks nothing about trapping a neighbor's beloved pet to be taken to the Shelter. Anyone ever looking for their lost animal at the shelter knows the heartbreak of not finding their animal.

We hope things will change there when the County takes over.

I wonder how she would feel if her beloved dog that she had for 14 years got out of her yard and was shipped off to the pound and "put to sleep" because it was old, before she could get to it!

Also, how dare that neighbor lady have her dog multiplying when spaying and neutering have been advocated to curb our animal population?

An end to dog catcher image urged

EDITOR:

Based on interviews with animal control officers (ACO'S), my work with the Humane Society task force, and my experiences while riding with ACO'S, I have no doubt but that there are internal problems.

The ACO's maintain that they are the "low men (and women)" on the totem pole. I think that many of them have accepted that at face value, when, in reality, they should enjoy some of the same feelings of satisfaction as any other law enforcement person.

If the right kind of personnel screening, the right kind of training in education, humane care, and above all, human relations, were a mandatory part of the hiring procedure, the whole program could be turned around.

I think the department lacks proper trucks which would certainly be better for the animals and create a far superior public acceptance of the ACO's. The present trucks are full of slick metal compartments on which an animal slides from side to side, with the only opening a barred door which leads directly to the outside — no wonder little kids come up to the truck and feel hate towards the ACO's.

What's a proper vehicle? In my experience, it would be a van, with a sliding side door and separate cages inside, such as is used by the model Peninsula Animal Society in Burlingame. The outside of such vans could be a roadway advertisement for the care and control of animals and advertise the spay and neuter clinic much better than the bumper stickers which the present trucks have.

I don't think that the procedures (or maybe its policies) which the ACO's must observe are entirely clear to all of them and I think that they must ALL be constantly briefed on them.

Their main concern currently seems to be that they are perpetually short-handed — because of illness. If some incentive programs were developed, if the ACO's themselves were encouraged to get out of their trucks and talk to the public, the results would be encouraging to them and to their superiors. Their current public education and public relations program is TOTALLY INADEQUATE by my standards.

I'd like to see the day come when the "dog catcher" image is gone and when the ACO's are looked upon as a friend to the community, to pick up injured animals, to pick up strays — who might otherwise be hurt by passing cars — and as persons who can offer advise and assistance to problem areas, such as barking dogs, too many dogs, lost dogs, sanitation problems — and as an animal control officer who has the training to meet and deal with the public and as a result can feel good about him or herself and the message he has to bring!

Here's Rusty

FIVE callers guessed the right answer to our mystery person (behind the coat) last week. It was Councilman Rusty Hammer. The first caller said he could tell by the "hairy hand." For over two months we've been trying to get a new picture of Rusty for our files since, with his new beard, etc. . . the old one's didn't fit anymore. The bashful pose was taken when he still wouldn't allow a new picture to be taken since he hadn't decided whether or not to keep the beard. He's now decided its there to stay . . . for awhile.

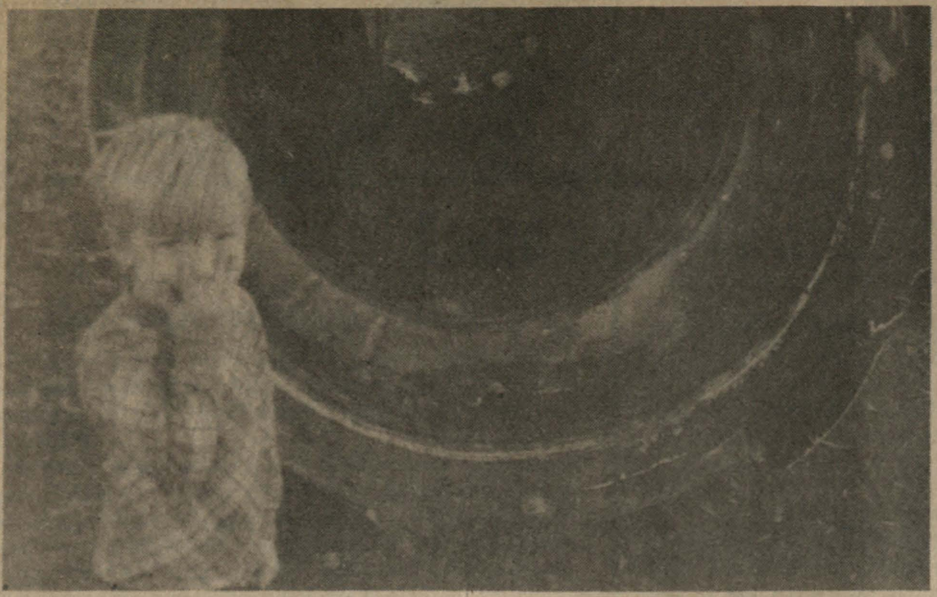
There's a big hole in the middle of the kiddie park



WHILE workmen were dismantling the old Air Force training jet at Campbell Park last week, one youngster came to climb on the old plane and shows how he feels about the state of affairs. City public works crews cited the danger to youngsters from sharp edges of the plane as the main reason for getting it out of the park.

IT TOOK eight hours of work by a crew, and a lot of pulling and tugging to get the old Air Force jet out of Campbell Park last week. The wrecking company took on the job at no cost to the city. Public works supervisors took pictures of the dismantling to meet government requirements. The U.S. Air Force requires before, during and after shots to insure former war planes are completely taken apart. Now it's up to the city parks and recreation commission to come up with a recommendation for new play equipment.

John the Baptist will be speaker

There's a new twist on the old Sunday sermon at the Congregational Church of Campbell.

For one thing, John the Baptist will be putting in an appearance this Sunday, Nov. 28.

Pastor Anthony Wayne Myers will take on the character and trappings of famous figures in Biblical history for the next four weeks for the Advent Worship Services Sundays at 10 a.m.

Other dramatic presentations will include Nathan, the Shepherd (Dec. 5); Jacob, the Innkeeper (Dec. 12); Joseph, the Carpenter (Dec. 19), and finally, Balthazar, the Wiseman, (Dec. 26).

Each monologue will tell the story of the first Christmas in the character of one of the original participants.

The church is located at 400 W. Campbell ave.

THE REV. Anthony Wayne Myers tried on a turban headdress for his role of Balthazar, the Wiseman, at the Congregational Church of Campbell.

A watery delivery

Neither rain, nor snow nor a sunken car could keep one delivery boy from his rounds.

Peter Tryforos, 18, who delivers for The White House restaurant, had a delivery at an industrial building on Dell ave. during our last rain storm.

When he left that plant he drove his small convertible straight ahead and into a 14-foot deep perc pond.

"Luckily, it was a convertible," his boss commented, "because he was able to pop the top, get out and swim to shore."

An hour and a half later the car was fished from the pond.

And no one had to wait for their order. He'd just finished his last delivery when the mishap occurred.

JANITOR DIES IN FRACUS

A 25 year olf Campbell janitor died last Wednesday night a little over two hours after he was shot in front of a Railway ave. home.

Carl D. Brown, 1153 Hacienda ave. was pronounced dead at Good Samaritan Hospital where he was taken following the shooting.

Police took 23 year old Liane Davis, 86 Railway ave. into custody on a homicide charge.

According to reports of witnesses, the argument started over complaints about a loud party at a neighboring home.

ARMED ROBBERY

Fred's Liquors was held up at gunpoint last Thursday by a man who demanded the cash and a carton of cigarettes. The robbery occurred about 11 p.m. and $983 was reported stolen.

The man fled on foot after the robbery.

FIRE ON ONTARIO

A blaze in one unit of a four-plex at 1470 Ontario lane caused an estimated $7,000 in damages last week. Investigators believe a smoldering cigarette caused the fire in which one man suffered second degree burns. He was treated at the scene by paramedics.

While fire fighters fought the blaze, they found a cat inside the building and revived it with oxygen.

THIS WASN'T A SAVE

Campbell paramedics and ambulance crews worked for almost a hour last Sunday to save a 76 year old Downing ave. man. But closed cardiac massage, defribillation and numerous drug injections failed to revive him.

Prounced dead on arrival at the hospital was Sal Cardoza, 628 Downing ave.

PARAMEDIC RUNS

Last week Campbell paramedics treated a half dozen auto accident victims, several heart attack victims and other assorted injuries, including one call at a local bar.

The man, who was treated for possible neck injuries, reportedly fell off the bar stool.

newsbriefs

HALF A HUNDRED SO FAR

With two weeks to go for submitting applications for school superintendent in the Campbell elementary school district, a total of 50 inquiries had been received as of last Thursday.

And of that 50, about 35 applications and resumes had been submitted.

Deadline for applicants is Dec. 10 with the School Board expected to make their selection in January.

GARDEN CENTER OKAYED

A 2.5 acre orchard on Winchester blvd., across from the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, will soon be sprouting flowers and shrubs.

Thursday night Campbell planning commissioners gave the nod to a request for a use permit and plans to construct a Woolworth Garden Center on the land at 2460 S. Winchester.

Applicant Kjartan Armann told the commission the center will include 14,000 square feet of covered sales space, 29,000 square feet of outdoor plant sales area and 1,100 square feet for storage of bark, gravel and other products.

Included in plans are 76 parking spaces and 7,900 square feet of landscaping.

WHEN THE LIGHTS GO ON

Towering over Campbell again this holiday season will be the giant "Peace On Earth" sign atop the Pruneyard Towers building, illuminated by 600-25 watt bulbs.

The sign review committee and planning commission both gave their approval to the application of Russell Matesso for that special event sign.

Stipulations include that he obtain a building permit to erect the sign and that it be removed by Jan. 15.

This year's quick nod from officials is in contrast to action several years ago when Matesso had rough sledding with the city over that sign.

LITTLE LEAGUE TAPE PURCHASED

Last week the city of Campbell received a tape of the Little League world championship game from ABC's Wild World of Sports, on loan.

Campbell is spending about $150 to get a copy of that tape made to have available for local showing.

The only mystery now though is whether its just a sound or a sound and video tape.

Funds for getting the copy made came out of the balance in the $500 the City Council authorized for the Chamber of Commerce to pay for homecoming festivity expenses.

PARKING DISTRICT COSTS

Final figures on the cost for the downtown off-street parking district were still not in but Engineering Manager Bill Helms gave a rough estimate recently.

Prices in the block by block parking plan range from 6.2 cents per square foot of business space (between Second and First st. north of Campbell ave.) to 3.77 cents for area 6 near Central and the railroad crossing.

Average cost, Helms says is about 5.1 cent per square foot.

Missionary speaks at Assembly gathering

Guest speaker at the Campbell Assembly of God church this Sunday, Nov. 28 will be the Rev. Mike McPhillips, newly approved missionary to Japan.

McPhillips, who studied classical piano for 13 years before he entered Bethany Bible College, will speak at the 11 a.m. services.

The church is located at 2275 Camden ave.

REV. Mike McPhillips will speak in Campbell.

STANDING at the podium during a council session can be nerve wracking but the Campbell Creature took it in stride. With him, left, is Youth Commissioner Ken Podgorsek.

A hardy claw shake

IT WAS introduction time for the Creature recently at a City Council session and Mayor Ralph Doetsch gives a hardy handshake. Councilman Bill Podgorsek (left) seems willing to follow suit but Councilman Rusty Hammer looks like he just thought of a previous commitment. With the Youth Commission now up to snuff, with six additional members, it is hoped they'll be appointed guardians of the winged beast.

October sets a high mark for building

Building activity in the city of Campbell totaled $311,000 for October, over twice that of a year ago. Total valuation of construction for October of 1975 totaled $129,000.

Biggest construction reported for the month was a restaurant at 49 W. Hamilton ave. totaling $94,680.

Largest category was in alterations and additions to homes where 16 building permits totaled $139,812.

With cooler weather there was a slowdown of swimming pool construction. Just one permit was issued for a value of $7,500.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

© Bea Rene 1975

"Great entertainment" is now being presented by John Bikakis (former owner of THE VILLAGES in S.F.) at the ECHO RESTAURANT in Los Altos . . . A 5 pc. group — "THE FIVE ECHO'S" featuring GREG FRANKS & JOHN FELSCH present music for your dancing pleasure Wed.-Sat. nites. This group is versatile playing current musical trends as well as nostalgia for all age groups, starting Fri, Nov. 26th. Thanksgiving dinner w/be served from 2 p.m. for $4.95 (child $2.50)

If you enjoy garden atmosphere, the GAZEBO RESTAURANT has window walls overlooking a garden paradise . . . Their Thanksgiving Dinner will be served at reg. moderate prices w/choice of Roast Turkey w/all the trimmings, Roast Duck, Prime Rib, Steaks & many Seafood selections. Dinner is served w/soup & salad, bread & butter, vegs., potatoes & coffee & you may dine from 11 a.m. until as late as 8 p.m.

As usual, Nick Kaplanis & partner Steve Smith go "all out" for holidays & Thanksgiving will be a "festive affair" at the VINTAGE '76. Dinner will start at 3 p.m. serving until 9. You have a choice of 2 entrees — Roast Turkey w/all the trimmings at $4.95 or Roast Leg of Lamb at $5.95 (children $2.95). Nick will serve fresh vegs., soup, gr. salad or his spec. mushroom salad, plus escalloped potatoes & beverage. You may also choose from the reg. menu.

The new luncheon menu at the FONDU POT is being very well received -- diners enjoy a pot of steamy soup at the table w/their salad & one of their new sandwiches. Thru Dec. 7th soup & sandwich incls. a glass of excellent house wine, so take advantage of this. I understand they now have dinner entertainment Fri. & Sat. nights when you can enjoy one of their marvelous fondues.

CLEMENTINE'S will be closed Thanksgiving; this restaurant is so popular for either lunch, dinner or Sun. brunch, their employees need a much deserved holiday. I caught the entertainment last week of "AIR-WAVES" the 6 piece group featuring RICK BELLER on xylophone & their vocalist MICHELE HENDRIX is super. There's a good sized dance floor in this charmingly decorated restaurant that serves fine cuisine, provides great service & super entertainment.

Following last Sat. big Vegas-style show w/MARCIE & THE ROYALS at PEZZELLA'S VILLA NAPOLI, they're planning their Dec. event which will be held NEW YEARS EVE. Open to the public, it'll feature the same fine entertainment only w/more enthusiasm w/favors, hats, horns, etc. They're already taking reservations.

You'd think people would stay home on rainy nights. Not so at SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED! When I checked with Charlie West, mgr. at Belmont location & Ann Beggs, hostees, they reported one of the yr's biggest crowds during a recent storm. There's something so homey about these restaurants. Many feature fireplaces to go w/cozy booths, flickering candles & soft Tiffany lamps. Unlimited wine goes w/all dinners!

Dinner-dancing to go along with a spec. holiday menu w/highlight Thanksgiving in the new supper club setting of the beautiful SHIRT TAIL RESTAURANT in Palo Alto. Roast Tom Turkey, complete dinner at $6.50, along w/Virginia Baked Hickory-cured Ham, Prime Rib & other festive dinners, w/be served 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. At 8 p.m., the 1st show w/live entertainment by the 7-pc Katz 'n' Jamm & dancing begin in the Ski Lodge Lounge with its glowing fireplace — no cover chg.

MALONEY'S in the valley is indeed a restaurant that is Continental in cuisine yet "Country Inn" in atmosphere...Located in Portola off Highway 280 on Sandhill Rd., you'll find the drive worth the trip. Open 7 days for dinner only, but the cocktail lounge is open daily. I highly recommend the fine cuisine at MALONEY'S.

Panthers remain in thick of WVAL race

Leigh tops Braves 14-7

THERE IS A GOOD possibility that the West Valley Athletic League could finish in an unprecedented four way tie for first place this Thursday.

If Leigh, Los Gatos and Prospect each win their traditional Thanksgiving Day rivalries Thursday, then all three clubs would earn a share of the WVAL championship along with the Branham Bruins.

In such an instance, a coin would be flipped to determine which team would represent the WVAL in Central Coast Section play-offs.

"But I'm not worrying about a coin flip right now," noted Prospect head coach Earl Adams. "I told my kids just to concentrate on winning Thursday's game; I haven't lost a coin flip yet."

Adams' Panthers made things extremely interesting heading into the final day of the WVAL season last Friday by upsetting the favored Westmont Warriors 21-7, knocking the Warriors out of the race for the league championship and thrusting themselves right into the thick of it.

Prospect ends its season against the Branham Bruins, who are currently leading the WVAL with a 5-2 record. The Panthers, Wildcats and Longhorns are all tied at 4-3 in second.

"THIS KIND of makes Thankgiving Day even more special, doesn't it?" Adams said.

While Branham and Prospect square-off at Branham, Los Gatos visits bitter rival Campbell and Leigh treks to Westmont. All three games start at 11 a.m.

"There was a lot of pressure in this game," Adams noted, referring to last Friday's must win confrontation against Westmont. "But the kids played very well. It was our best game of the year."

Prospect controlled the contest from the outset, scoring touchdowns in both of the first two quarters to take a 14-0 halftime lead.

And when Westmont attempted to get back in the game following a third period score, the Panthers promptly marched 75 yards in 13 plays for a victory clinching touchdown.

David Angerole, who has been one of the top scorers in the WVAL all season long, capped the Panthers' fourth period drive with a 15 yard romp into the endzone. He then booted his third extra point of the day.

Nearly seven minutes remained in the game after Angerole's score, but the Warriors never again threatened to get back into the contest.

"They came to play and we didn't," said a dejected Don Stagnaro, Westmont's head coach. "They played an outstanding game."

"THIS WAS OUR best offensive effort of the season," added Adams.

The Panthers employed a time consuming land attack and spiced it with occasional passes to accumulate over 400 yards of total offense.

Quarterback Steve Hill led the offensive assault with his passing and his running. The Panther senior completed seven of 11 passes for 83 yards and a touchdown in addition to carrying the ball 15 times for 134 yards.

Hill's touchdown pass was a 30 yard strike to tight end Bill Stokes late in the second period to give the Panthers their 14-0 halftime advantage.

Rick Asturias was another offensive star for Prospect, lugging the ball 14 times for 78 yards and one touchdown. Asturias put the Panthers on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a one yard plunge into the endzone that ended a 15 play, 92 yard march.

Hill keyed the drive by picking up three critical first downs on third down runs.

Angerole, meanwhile, chipped in with 68 yards on 15 carries.

Helping to make the Panther ground attack so effective was the offensive line that consisted of center Arick Levine, guards John Gallisano, Walt Garrison and Lance Feldman, and tackles Dan Browning and Ken Hoyt.

"The offensive line did an excellent job," praised Adams.

WESTMONT GOT into the game momentarily in the third period when Randy Scacutto hit his favorite receiver Rocky Pena for a 15 yard touchdown. Rick Alvear added the extra point.

Scacutto ended the day with 10 completes in 18 tries for 94 yards. But he was intercepted three times, twice by Mike Citnich and once by Hill.

Pena, who was covered by Hill, was limited to just four catches for 48 yards. Eric Stark, who led all rushers with 122 yards on 23 carries, also caught four passes but for just 16 yards.

A lot of Stark's yardage could be attributed to the fine blocking of center Shane Truan and guard Pat Riley, according to Stagnaro.

As he did on offense, Hill led the Panthers on defense from his cornerback position. In addition to containing Pena and picking off a pass, Hill came up to make five tackles.

Levine topped the Panthers in tackles with 11 unassisted hits, including three quarterback sacks.

Sophomore Bill Stoffer sparkled for the Warrior defense at linebacker.

The Warriors take a 5-4 overall record into their season finale Thursday against Wes Leigh but are now just 3-4 in league.

Cunningham keeps streak alive--barely

ALTHOUGH HE'S some 40 games away from tying Joe DiMaggio's record, Gary Cunningham is nonetheless feeling the pressure of keeping a hitting streak alive.

Cunningham waited until his last at bat in both ends of last Sunday's doubleheader to get hits that stretched his season long hitting streak to 16 straight games.

And as it turned out, both hits help to ignite game winning rallies that enabled the Del Mar Rainbows to sweep a Winter League Semi-Pro doubleheader from the tough Santa Clara Hawks.

Cunningham's lead-off triple in the bottom of the sixth inning set-off a three run Del Mar rally in the first game, snapping a 2-2 tie and pacing the Rainbows to a 5-2 victory.

Steve Picone followed Cunningham's blast with a triple of his own. Winning pitcher Mark Intrieri then lashed a single to left, plating Picone.

After Jeff Blobaum forced Intrieri at second and then moved up a base on a passed ball, Dan McKay capped the rally with a single to score Blobaum.

Del Mar had grabbed an early 2-0 lead on singles by Fred Gradel, Scott Levander and Eric Richesin and an error by Santa Clara's rightfielder.

INTRIERI WENT six strong innings, allowing just two hits, one walk and one earned run while fanning eight for his third win in four outings. Cunningham came on in the seventh to preserve the win.

In the nitecap, Del Mar entered the last inning trailing 3-2. But Cunningham, hitless in his previous trips to the plate, opened the seventh with a single to right-center.

George Krumpotich was hit by a pitch moments later, pushing Cunninham into scoring position. Intrieri tied the game with a single and Blobaum followed with a two run base hit giving the Rainbows' a thrilling 5-3 triumph.

Blobaum, making his first mound appearance in three weeks, went the full seven innings, scattering seven hits and two walks while fanning 10 to notch his fourth victory of the year.

Intrieri sparked the Rainbows' 13-hit attack in the second game, stroking a trio of safeties. Intrieri finished the day with five hits in seven at bats and drove three runs.

Krumpotich, Blobaum and Mckay each had two hits in the win.

Del Mar travels to Mitty high school Sunday for a double dipper with the Santa Clara Royals. Game times are 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The Rainbows will be bolstered by the additions of slugger Dan "Yogi" Taylor and southpaw hurler Tom Harris. Taylor hit .467 for Del Mar high school last year as a junior and was the annual All-SUN baseball team's Most Valuable Player. Harris carved an 8-4 record as a junior for Del Mar.

Brewer paces Longhorns to WVAL x-country crown

THE LEIGH LONGHORNS certainly know how to finish off a perfect league cross country season — by dominating the field at the league's championship meet.

Leigh, after already rolling up an 8-0 dual meet record against the teams of the West Valley Athletic League, finished its perfect WVAL campaign with an easy title at the league finals at Coyote Park.

Leigh posted just 29 points to claim the league crown, finishing far below second place Camden at 89.

Paul Brewer won the individual league title, running 14:46 at Coyote.

Vance Eberly of LG was second at 14:54 with Jay Barragan of Campbell third at 14:59 before Bill Ritt romped home in 15:12 for fourth and Larry Bergkamp raced in at 15:22 for fifth for Leigh.

Bill Russell of Blackford was sixth at 15:25 with Greg McDonald of Camden finishing seventh at 15:28.

Greg Jenkins was eighth for Leigh at 15:31 with Westmont's Howard Todd nailing ninth at 15:32 and Del Mar's Dave Keenan 10th at 15:37.

Dave Sipiora finished 11th at 15:45 to round out the Longhorn top five in the title performance.

Del Mar finished third at 106 in the meet with Westmont fourth at 119 and Prospect fourth at 121.

LEIGH WON titles on all four levels at the WVAL finals.

Leigh and Los Gatos tied for the team title on the sophomore level with 37 points each. Mark Harries was first at 16:07 for the Wildcats with Joe Wagster second for Leigh at 16:13. Jess Nickell was third for Leigh at 16:14 and Steve Kilmer was seventh at 16:46. Chris Hickey was 12th and Rich Huerta 15th to round out the Leigh top five.

STATE CHAMP — West Valley harrier Bob Paulin, a graduate of Camden high school, recently won the state cross country championship.

Paulin romps to state cross country title

BOB PAULIN of West Valley College didn't win the Golden Gate Conference individual cross country title this fall — but you won't catch him complaining.

Why should Paulin complain about a second place finish in the GGC — the Viking freshman came back to win the Northern California and State championships for West Valley.

Paulin set a course record at the College of the Canyons in Valencia in Southern California when he covered the four mile distance in 19:45 to lead the junior college field.

Paulin's individual effort was good enough to lead West Valley to an eighth place team finish with 193 points behind seventh place El Camino at 186. Grossmont won the large school team title at 44.

Paulin beat a GGC nemesis at the state finals to finish first. The former Camden high school star finished far ahead of San Mateo's Mitch Kingery. Kingery, who had finished ahead of Paulin many times this year, had to settle for seventh.

But it wasn't the first time Paulin had outclassed the star Bulldog. Just a week earlier Paulin had outrun Kingery for the NorCal title.

Paulin breezed to a victory at the Northern California championships on Kingery's home Crystal Springs course in San Mateo.

Paulin posted a low 20:15.2 time on the 4.19 mile Crystal Springs path, finishing just over two seconds short of the course record.

"He ran a super race, a really great race," said West Valley coach Bill Campbell in praise of Paulin.

Todd Baker, a grad of Westmont, finished 15th in the NorCal competition for the Vikings and Ron Fritzke, a product of Leigh, romped to a 19th, running on an injured foot.

While Paulin was leading West Valley to a team eighth in the large school division at the state finals, San Jose City College was running to a team sixth in the small school competition.

Wally Montenegro (Lincoln) finished ninth at 20:53 to lead the San Jose effort and Joe Fabris (Mt. Pleasant) ended 30th at 21:41.

Glendale won the small school title at the state meet with 90 points.

McCammon on UOP varsity

FORMER Prospect high school and West Valley College football star Ross McCammon is now the second team strongside tackle as a junior for the University of Pacific varsity.

Carrasco nabs two-mile title at Postal

Carlos Carrasco, who recently breezed to individual titles for Mt. Pleasant in the Mt. Hamilton Athletic League and Region III cross country finals, roared to an individual victory at the Northern California two-mile postal meet on the West Valley College track.

Carrasco, just a sophomore at Mt. Pleasant, covered the two mile distance in 9:09.6 to pace the field. He finished almost three seconds ahead of the second place finisher in the eight lapper.

Nothing right in Blackford loss

THINGS HAD TO go just right for the Blackford Braves last Friday if they were to remain in the West Valley Athletic League title race.

First of all, Blackford had to post a victory over Leigh, its Friday foe. And secondly, the Braves had to hope for Camden to knock off first place Branham.

Well, things didn't go just right for the Braves. In fact, they didn't go right at all —they went all wrong.

The Braves dropped a 14-7 heartbreaker to Leigh on the Blackford field and, at the same time, Branham dropped Camden 35-12 to eliminate the Braves from the title race.

With the loss, Blackford finished the league season with a 3-4-1 record after at one point leading the WVAL with a near perfect 3-0-1 record. The Braves lost their last four straight games.

The Braves did manage a .500 mark overall on the year, ending 1976 with a 4-4-1 record.

Blackford and Leigh fought to a 0-0 first period draw last Friday before the Longhorns drove 78 yards on 11 plays for a touchdown with 3:47 left in the half.

The Braves came back with a drive of their own to start the third, covering 73 yards on 12 plays before Mike Turnwall blasted over from the two. Layne Duggins' kick tied the game at 7-7.

But Leigh's Steve Wiens returned the ensuing kick-off 81 yards for a touchdown, the TD that ended up the game winner.

BLACKFORD'S Dave McClenahan returned the Leigh kick-off 15 yards to the Brave 48 but came within one tackler of breaking it all the way. A personal foul on Leigh took the ball down to the 37.

Mark Publicover was dropped for a yard loss before Kevin Prim crashed for five, After an errant pass, Scott Conn completed a five yard pitch to Matt Kimura.

But the Braves came up a yard short of a first down and Leigh took over at the 28. Blackford didn't threaten again.

Blackford could manage just 173 total yards in the game, 144 on the ground and only 29 through the air.

Kimura led the Brave ground attack with 58 yards on eight carries and Turnwall romped for 36 yards on eight tries. Primm gained 19 yards on four carries and Publicover added 18 yards on six totes.

Conn completed just two of 12 passes for 14 yards and Publicover was one for one for 15 yards on a halfback pass. Guy Gandenberger grabbed two passes for 24 yards and Kimura caught one for five.

Kris Stiles and Mark Harrison each picked off Leigh passes for Blackford and Turnwall and Randy English led Brave tacklers. English sacked the Leigh quarterback in the game.

Ken Rossi, Doug Tilbury, Sean O'Carroll, Jeff Gippetti, Publicover and McClenahan were also top tacklers in the game and Duggins and Matt Hendrickson were in on key stops.

Stiles started Blackford on the way to its only touchdown of the game when he returned the second half kick-off 13 yards to the Brave 27.

Publicover picked up two yards before Turnwall crashed for eight and seven on the next two plays.

After an incomplete pass, Kimura sprinted for 31 yards to take the football to the Leigh 25.

Publicover gained three yards and Turnwall crashed for three. On third down Turnwall went nine yards to the nine to give Blackford a first and goal.

Kimura picked up three yards on first down but Publicover was stopped for no gain. On third down Turnwall gained four to the two and on the crucial fourth down play Turnwall blasted his way into the endzone with 6:37 left in the third. Turnwall showed good second effort as he rolled off of a tackle at the line of scrimmage to bounce over the goalline.

Prideful Bucs end Don title hopes

WITH NOTHING left to play for but pride, the Campbell Buccaneers put forth one of their best efforts of the year last Friday to deal the Del Mar Dons a 14-7 setback and end Del Mar's title aspirations for 1976.

Campbell, which was the first team to fall out of the running for the WVAL crown this year, battled back from an early 7-0 deficit to capture its third win against five league losses.

Pat Ryan's stunning 90 yard kick-off return to the Del Mar five yard line to open the second half set-up Dave Burns' eventual game winning two yard touchdown burst.

"The kids really did a good job," praised Campbell head coach Al Matthews. "We hit hard. Del Mar never really had a threat to score all day."

Del Mar's only score, in fact, came on a 27 yard interception return by Clifton Warren in the second quarter. Dan "Yogi" Taylor, who hasn't missed a conversion try all season long, then booted the PAT.

"They had two breaks and they capitalized on it," noted Del Mar mentor Jim Clifton.

CAMPBELL'S SECOND break was Ryan's kick-off return, its first being a fumble recovery in the second quarter that set a 65 yard scoring drive in motion.

Dave Sascer capped the drive with a nine-yard TD run on an option pitch. The Bucs than assumed a slight one point lead on a two point pass conversion from Dan Trinidad to Burns.

After that it was all defense for the Bucs.

"Our defense was really tough," praised Matthews. "We put a lot of pressure on their quarterback."

Leading the Buc defense was P. Ryan, who was in on nine unassisted and three assisted tackles. Dino Hernandez, John Anderson, Dan Rozewich, Dave Sexton, Wayne Gray and Bill Meyers and Mike Benjamin also turned in stellar defensive efforts.

Del Mar also sparkled on defense, recording 10 quarterback sacks on the day. Defensive back Blake Fearnside led the assault on Campbell's quarterback by registering three sacks on the blitz. Jim Slaugherty, John Rickattulo and Pete Angeldakis each had two sacks while Craig Tardieu and Bert Tardieu both had one.

C. Tardieu was Del Mar's leading tackler in the contest, making 10 stops.

"Our defense was outstanding," noted Clifton.

Although most of Campbell's offense consisted of the off tackle runs of Mark Ryan and Burns, the Bucs still managed to control the ball.

EXCELLENT BLOCKING from Brian Bagley, Galen Strannigan, John Aimonetti, Kevin Smith and Rozewich helped to make the Buc ground game go.

The Dons received fine efforts in the offensive line from Angeldakis and Dave Heckert, who were filling in for Jordon Gill and Tim Holland, both out with pneumonia.

Del Mar's Rob Oneto led all rushers with 80 yards on 12 carries while teammate Dennis Perry chipped in with 32 yards on nine tries.

Del Mar's WVAL record fell to 2-4-1 with the loss while its overall mark slipped to 3-4-1.

Jaguars, Vikings post wins

A PAIR OF first quarter touchdowns sparked the San Jose City College football team to a 13-0 victory over Laney and to the Golden Gate Conference championship.

The win left the Jaguars with a 7-1 record and in sole possession of first place in the GGC.

Mike Martin flipped a five yard scoring toss to Henry Mearis and Casey Wingard romped 11 yards for a touchdown to lead the Jags to the victory. Jesse Saenz (Pioneer) kicked an extra point to close out the San Jose scoring.

Wingard led the Jag offensive with 146 yards and Ray Garcia chipped in with 110 yards. Martin added 90 yards rushing in the win.

De Anza scored in the fourth but Painter returned a punt 85 yards for a touchdown and Rich Scheaffer (Leland) recovered an enemy fumble in the endzone for the final TD. Eagle converted after Painter's scored to clinch the WVC win.

A night later West Valley College finished up its season on a winning note with a 23-16 victory over De Anza College at the Los Gatos high school field.

Dave Painter (Branham) scored a pair of touchdowns to help the Vikings finish their season with a victory.

Rich Eagle drilled a 40 yard first quarter field goal. The Dons scored in the second, but so did the Vikes on a four yard Painter run and an Eagle extra point. The two were tied 10-10 at halftime.

Bells edge Wildcats in sudden death overtime

BATTLING back from a 15-0 halftime deficit, the Bellarmine Bells tied the St. Ignatius Wildcats 15-15 in regulation play and ultimately pulled out a controversial 16-15 decision in sudden death.

The triumph kept the Bells undefeated and virtually assured John Hanna's club of a second consecutive West Catholic Athletic League Championship.

In overtime, both teams were to run consecutive plays in the California tiebreaker system following the regulation 15-15 tie.

St. Ignatius only netted four yards in its four plays, thanks mainly to Jim Revels' sacking of the quarterback for a three yard loss. Bellarmine got four yards from Mark DeBruin and two from Kevin King and had the last play to go, although leading.

It was at that point that St. Ignatius ran off the field. Gil Haskell, the Wildcat's coach, protested the contest, believing the Bells could have fumbled or lost yardage on that last play.

But the protest was denied preserving the Bellarmine victory.

After trailing 15-0 at the half, the Bells came roaring behind the play of Troy Forte.

FORTE put the Bells on the scoreboard in the third period with an eight yard touchdown romp following a 67 yard romp by King.

Forte, who was filling in for the injured Mark Rebboah, later hauled in a 40 yard TD pass from King. Ned McIver's extra point kick pulled the Bells to within two points of the Wildcats.

Bellarmine tied the score on the ensuing kickoff when Jeff Russell nailed Bill Ryan in the endzone for a safety.

DeBruin led Bell rushers in the game with 61 yards on nine carries while King, sacked four times in the win, ended with 55 yards in 10 tries. Forte rambled for 41 yards on five totes in addition to catching a pair of passes for 61 yards.

King went to the air eight times on the day and completed five for 90 yards.

Defensive standouts in the triumph were Revels, Russell, Pat Folan, Mike Kerrigan and Joe Balestrieri.

Leigh runs to Regional top spot in walkaway

WHEN THE 1976 cross country season began last September, the Leigh Longhorns weren't just pointing towards winning the West Valley Athletic League championship — Leigh was aiming for all the marbles!

Leigh had its sights set on the WVAL, Region III and CCS titles when the year began. And the Longhorns are just one step away from reaching their goal.

Leigh won the WVAL title in easy fashion and came back with a team win at the Region III finals in a walkaway.

The CCS finals were to be held on Tuesday at Coyote Park and Leigh was gunning for a win there to cap an otherwise perfect year.

Junior Paul Brewer paced Leigh to the Regional crown last week with an individual second place finish. Brewer covered the 2.85 mile course in 14:41 to finish third.

Leigh won the Regional title with a low 65 points, far below second place Gilroy at 82. Silver Creek was third at 96 with Willow Glen fourth at 105, Piedmont Hills fifth at 176 and Camden sixth at 182. The top six teams in the Region III meet were to advance to CCS.

Mt. Pleasant's super sophomore Carlos Carrasco finished first in the Region meet at 14:24 and Willow Glen star Mark Stillman was second at 14:39. Brewer was a close third at 14:41.

Vance Eberly of Los Gatos was fourth at 14:46 with Bill Russell of Blackford seventh at 15:01, Jay Barragan of Campbell ninth at 15:03 and Bill Ritt of Leigh 10th at 15:03.

Carrasco led Mt. Pleasant to a team seventh with Live Oak picking up eighth, Del Mar ninth and Leland 10th.

Leigh finished second in the Region III in the frosh-soph division with 78 points. Overfelt won the competition with 52 points. Leigh's Jess Nickell finished fifth in the race at 15:50.

Third annual Jag mat clinic set

MANY folks might think it still looks like football season around the San Jose area, but not San Jose City College wrestling coach Sam Huerta. When it gets close to the end of November, Huerta no longer recognizes football as a sport — he thinks it's wrestling time!

And Huerta will kick-off the 1976-77 wrestling season on Friday, Nov. 26, at the main gym at San Jose City College on Moorpark ave. with the third annual SJCC wrestling clinic.

The clinic, open to all coaches and wrestlers on the high school and college levels, will begin with an 8 a.m. registration on Friday. There will be four Olympic Trial finalists on hand to help with the clinic.

"It will be a participation clinic, so bring your gear," said Huerta to wrestlers and coaches interested in attending the event. The cost of the clinic will be $2 per person.

Bob McNeil, Jeff Callard, Chris Horpel and Richard Calderon were all Olympic Trial finalists and will be on hand for the clinic.

McNeil, from UC Berkeley, was second at the US Olympic finals and was a 1976 Olympic alternate as were Callard, a three time All-American from the University of Oklahoma, and Horpel, a two time All-American from Stanford.

Calderon, an All-American from the University of Washington, placed third at the US Olympic finals and was a 1976 Olympic alternate. Calderon was a product of Overfelt high school and San Jose City College, where he was a state champion and All-American.

The clinic will begin at 9 a.m. and run until noon when there will be an hour lunch break. The afternoon session will run from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Speedway motorcycles set to buzz at Cow Palace

THINGS will be buzzing around the Cow Palace in San Francisco for a couple of days after Thanksgiving this week — speedway motorcycles!

That's right, the speedway bikes will be buzzing around the Palace dirt track on Friday and Saturday in the third annual running of the Cow Palace Speedway Motorcycle championships.

The cat-quick bikes will twirl the Palace course each night beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned event.

There will be 25 racing events on Friday and 26 more on Saturday. The object of speedway racing is to pit each entrant against every other rider in a process of elimination to get to the last four riders. The last four run the final event to determine the winner.

Tickets for the event are on sale at all BASS agencies and the Cow Palace and are priced at $4 for adults and $1 for children 6-12 on Friday and $5 for adults and $1 for children 6-12 on Saturday.

Top ranked riders expected for the event this weekend are Steve Bast, the 1974 winner, Paul Orlandi, Rich McMurray and Scott Autrey.

GUNS FOR THE LEAD — Mike Bast guns for the lead in recent action and will be among the competitors at the motorcycle speedway championships Friday and Saturday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Kern Refuge closed short time

The Kern National Wildlife Refuge, which has been closed to waterfowl hunting this season because of the shortage of water, will open to limited hunting Wednesday, Dec. 1, the Department of Fish and Game announced.

The DFG, which manages hunting on the refuge located just south of the Kings-Kern county line on Dairy Avenue, said that the daily hunter quota will be 30.

Normally, the quota has been five to seven times this number, but the DFG and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service feel the limited water and habitat this year will support hunting only on this scale.

According to the announcement, the quota will be filled by reservations and first-come, first-served hunters. The DFG urged interested hunters to prepare and submit application cards for reservations as soon as possible as they must reach Sacramento by Nov. 22 to be eligible for the drawing Nov. 23.

Shoot days will be Wednesdays and Sundays. Hunting will be permitted from one-half hour before sunrise until 12 noon.

They were off and running in Campbell last Saturday

A 25-year-old Del Mar cross country coach swept the field of 123 last Saturday at the first annual Turkey Trot Fun Run, sponsored by Campbell Community Services.

Dan Cruz of Campbell, a member of the Camino West Track Club based in San Carlos, was first across the finish line with an incredible 20 minutes and 22 seconds for the 4.5 mile run.

Runners, from 8 to 58, began converging on John D. Morgan park at 7:30 that morning and by 9 the starting line was jammed.

Winners in each division received turkeys donated by local businesses while finalist received an official Turkey Trot T-shirt. All those who crossed the finish line received ribbons, including three local high school students who sauntered in almost two hours later and explained they'd walked the course.

There was lively competition in most divisions, particularly the 30-and-above category, but just one fleet-footed youngster in the 9-and-under bracket. Eight-year-old Guy Perry walked off with a turkey, T-shirt and ribbon.

Other winners included:

Age 30 and above: (men and women)

Bill Meinhardt, first; Ken Napier, second, and Pete Kraus, third.

Linda De Carlo, first; Marigene Gonella, second, and Carolyn Westphal, third.

Age 18-29:

Sharon Furtado, first; Lynn Harris, second, and Pam Ellis, third.

Daniel Cruz, first; Steve Nelson, second, and Kevin Madden, third.

Age 14-17:

Grey McDonald, first; Pat Watter, second, and Sheldon Larson, third.

Sandy Paulin, first; Jennifer Schneider, second, and Sue Certoff, third.

Age 10-13:

Aida Stearns, first; Georgine Barragan, second, and Jane Morgan, third.

Tyler Henry, first; Steve Franch, second, and Kerry McKay, third.

LINING UP at the starting line last Saturday were runners in the first annual Turkey Trot fun run. Over 120 people showed up for the event and everyone that started, finished.

TOP RUNNER in the tourney was Dan Cruz of Campbell who blazed through the finish line a minute ahead of the second place finisher.

A bad day for the creature

The Campbell Creature was suffering from a severe case of ruffled feathers last Saturday, and with good cause. Seems it was booked for an appearance at the Turkey Trot Fun Run but ran into a scheduling problem.

It was suppose to stand at the Corner of Winchester and Rincon ave. to wave on the long distance runners. And was told to be there by 9:20 a.m.

After Saturday's volunteer spent a half hour getting into the costume and walked three blocks to that intersection, the runners were long gone. They started shortly after 9 a.m. and were somewhere along Los Gatos Creek at that time.

So if you saw a weird bird-like creature standing all by its lonesome Saturday morning, I hope you waved.

Take note

DOGGY RULES ENFORCED

If you walk your dog on a state beach or in a state park or recreation area, you may find yourself facing a hefty fine.

The "no dogs" allowed edict is in force now and no warnings will be issued to offenders.

State Parks and Recreation Director Herbert Rhodes said dog bite reports have been averaging 50 a year, in recent years.

A memo to advertisers

HOW TO STEP UP THE POWER OF YOUR AD!

DON'T OMIT YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Many readers will find it more convenient to call you.

DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS. Many readers will write or visit you rather than phoning.

DON'T USE BLIND NUMBER BOXES. Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and therefore not conducive to greatest results.

DON'T ABBREVIATE! Abbreviations are discouraged because most people are unable — or will not bother — to figure them out. Thus losing you many prospects.

DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED. Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price or an indication of the price bracket is given.

DON'T KEEP 'EM GUESSING. Don't let the readers guess on important details.

STAY HOME! Don't leave home on days others might answer the ad.

TO INSURE MAXIMUM RESULTS. Place your ad on the "four issue play safe plan." You may cancel it just as soon as the desired results have been obtained.

Celeste's a winner!

CAMPBELL baton twirler Celeste Cook captured the first place trophy in the junior solo majorette division at the recent Veterans Day Parade in San Jose. The daughter of Earl and Mary Cook, is 10 years old and attends Hazelwood school. Her style is to twirl two batons at the same time. Celeste, a member of the Bonnie Rosettes, has also won awards at the county fair and the Saratoga Fall Festival Parade this year.

Club moves

Empty rooms at the old Scout Hall

The city will be razing the old Scout Hall at 161 Grant street, just as soon as they get someone to do the work.

Last week the Wilderness Center moved the last of their belongings out of the building, which had been their home (rent free) for more than two years.

Earlier, the City Council voted to demolish the building citing excessive costs to bring the building up to code and the unsuitability of other city uses.

A report from the Civic Improvement Commission in September stated the building was "very small" and located centrally in a residential neighborhood. It also cites high renovation costs.

City officials were forestalling a reoccurrence of the problems like those with the Wilderness Center when they decided to have the building demolished. Complaints from neighbors over the operation of the Center, as well as difficulties getting the group to live up to their agreements, led to the eviction order in September.

Last week Building Official Wally Byron said he suggested the building and land be sold for residential use.

"A person could go in there and for $15,000 make repairs and come up with a good sized single family dwelling," Byron said. For the amount, he explained, a family could renovate the building into a large two-story structure.

And a Campbell woman, who said earlier she contacted a city department to see about buying the property, planned a visit to the City Manager to ask again.

But city officials weren't expected to go along with that idea. There's a hitch in any sale of that property.

Under the terms of the will which originally deeded that land to the city, all proceeds from the sale must be spent for recreation purposes.

INSPECTING the interior of the city-owned building at Grant st. and N. Third recently were City Building Official Wally Byron, right, and Assistant to the City Manager Kevin Duggan. The old Scout Hall had a much different look last week as the Wilderness Center (West Valley Hiking Club) moved the last of their things, including the partitions, out with them to a new headquarters in San Jose.

Getting down to the basics at Capri school

Senior complex gets the nod

Campbell planning commissioners gave their okay on a 105 unit senior citizen complex on Budd ave. Thursday night after a long discussion on recommendations from the Civic Improvement Commission. Final approval will be up to the City Council.

Robert L. McKee, on behalf of Corinthian House, Inc. is seeking to develop the three building complex on 1.75 acres of land at 250 Budd ave. He is seeking a zone change (from high density residential to planned development) and approval of plans for the project.

Several questions and concerns of CIC commissioners were discussed at the hearing.

- A minimum age should be established. (The minimum age will be 62 years or older and, in the case of a couple, that one meet the age requirement.)
- How many permanent staff members? (McKee said five).
- Will handicapped persons be included? (No, ambulatory persons only. Those disabled could seek housing in another Corinthian House development).
- Price range for housing. (The range will be $400 to $475 for single occupancy and $550 to $650 for double, including three meals a day).
- Will the units be furnished? (No, McKee said).
